NOTICE

To : All candidates sitting for the Selection Examination in Obstetrics and Gynecology- February/April 2021

The Senate of the University of Colombo has decided that a certificate in Advanced Life Support conducted by College of Anaesthetists and Intensivists of Sri Lanka or equivalent professional body is an eligibility requirement for the Selection Examination in Obstetrics and Gynaecology. The Basic Life Support certificate is not accepted for this purpose.

In view of the Covid-19 situation, a grace period of 3 months after commencement of the training programme is granted to submit the ALS certificate.
