 - (g) Any other requirements stipulated by the Board of Study relevant to the particular field of study which have been approved by the Board of Management.

Note :-

The criteria prescribed in paragraph (c) must have been satisfied by the applicants as at the date of closure of applications provided that where a short-fall has occurred due to any reasons including sick, maternity or other leave, the doctor concerned should complete such shortfall in order to become eligible to apply for the Selection Examinations.

3. The applicants to be eligible for enrolment to the training programme should pass the selection examination. The current format of the selection examination is available in the PGIM website.
4. The examination consists of two components i.e. MCQ (Part I and Part II) and OSCE with 12 stations.
5. Candidates should first obtain a minimum 50% or more in each parts of the MCQ component to be allowed to proceed for the OSCE examination which will commence on 9th October 2024. All candidates will be informed in writing, their performance at the MCQ papers.
6. In order to pass the OSCE component a candidate must achieve the following criteria.
 - i. Obtain a minimum cumulative, non-rounded off average of 3 from 12 stations.
AND
 - ii. Obtain a minimum close mark of 3 in 4 out of 6 in the Basic Sciences stations.
AND
 - iii. Obtain a minimum close mark of 3 in 4 out of 6 in the Clinical Skills stations.
AND
 - iv. Obtain a minimum close mark of 3 in at least one station in a pair.

Notes:

1. The cumulative average is obtained by adding the close marks awarded by the individual examiners from all 12 stations and dividing the total by 24.
2. The station mark for candidate is the average of individual marks awarded by each examiner.
3. The three (3) Basic Sciences station pairs are:
 - Surgical anatomy x 2 stations
